FOREWORD

Planning is looking to the future with eyes of present. Accurate planning is the foundation stone for achieving success in any field. The Police Order 2002, has made it mandatory for the head of the District police to prepare an annual policing plan and get it approved by the District Public Safety Commission.

Our annual plan which is an important step towards describing our intentions for the future. Chakwal Police is charged with onerous responsibility of tackling dynamic and complex issues. The crime pattern in Chakwal is quite varied and includes problems like rising incidents of fatal accidents, car theft, cases of burglaries and hurts. Besides, provision of security to VVIP's, important installations and visiting dignitaries constitutes extremely important responsibility of Chakwal police.

Although Chakwal Police is coping with the task appreciably, there is still a long way to go for providing better service delivery to the people and controlling rising incidents of crime that creates general sense of insecurity in the minds of the residents. Crime in the field of narcotics has been remained increasing. Keeping the aforementioned picture in view the plan has given top priority to the following:-

- i. Reducing incidents of car and motor cycle theft
- ii. Curtailing the incidents of robbery
- iii. Controlling the number of fatal accidents
- iv. Making streets of Chakwal safer
- v. Improving confidence of public in police through better service delivery
- vi. Making Police responsive to the needs of the community.

INTRODUCTION

In the prevalent scenario, policing has become a difficult task to foresee and over-awe the future development/happenings. The new dimensions of terrorism, suicide attacks on important personalities have made the issue, really challenging one and difficult. These difficulties and challenges when combined with the rising trend in crime rate due to deteriorated social economics and political conditions of the soil. Moreover increasing unemployment, meaningless education and other related environment require police to work in a more professional systematic and scientific manner.

The Police Order 2002 has introduced a lot of new changes in policing system of the country. In order to be more transparent, systematic and scientific in policing one of its requirements was the preparation of Annual Policing Plan for the District. This policing plan for District Chakwal is the result of our realistic approach with respect to ground realities and we have strived utmost to bring it in consonance with Police Order 2002 and proposed Police Rules 1934.

Chakwal is a different area of policing as it offers some of the challenges that are not essential components of the policing scenario elsewhere in the country. Chakwal police force is all set to deliver services to the people on the basis of analysis by revamping its orientation and attitude to confirm to the new good governance and motivated to undertake better service delivery through effective command structure and timely response to the public call and demands for assistance. The process of implementation and monitoring has been strengthened and sensitized for achieving the targets, objectives and goals contained in the Annual policing plan so that we meet the challenges of 21st century in a befitting manner. The issues of selection or recruitment of the best officers possible and the retention of this best lot have been addressed as well.

The annual policing plan 2023 is the result of wide consultation with the public and other relevant segments of society. Joint efforts have been made to make our first policing plan as the representative of our thinking tempered by genuine demands of the public and the guiding views of the public of District Chakwal. The objectives targets contained in this plan revolve around this important responsibility.

This plan primarily suggests of policing in District Chakwal for the calendar year 2024. Our important targets during the year under review, which we wish to achieve, financial and other resources which are likely to be available to Chakwal Police. This plan also gives a brief portray of our mechanism for achieving our specific targets. We have also taken into accounts the requirement of our resources that we must have to proceed ahead effectively, and have mentioned shortage of the same in this plan. The analysis of preceding three years is used as basis to set future policing targets and to ascertain the requirement of the resources. We have also given a pictorial importance of optimum distribution as well as optimum utilization of available resources in our policing plan.

In the year 2024, Chakwal Police will strive to improve service to the public and will continue to implement measures that contribute towards increasing the effectiveness of our organizations. We will maintain close liaison with the public to know what practices in their opinion best suit the purpose and mission of our service and how can we best serve them. This consultation will enable us to ensure that the police are continuously in touch with the needs, desires and aspirations of the public by explaining the rationale behind the policing priorities for the District Police who alone cannot have a long lasting effect on crime and disorder. We will work closely in partnership with the major stakeholders of the society, by the students, teachers, lawyers, lawmakers or industrialists. Our "Reach-out- policy alone can help us check the rising incidence of crime.

We plan to make Chakwal Crime free and create a sense of security, further to improve our working in crime against property. For these purposes our plan would show the optimum utilization of available resources.

Robbery, burglary, attempted murders and fatal accidents are being addressed and we hope that steps planned would show how a more responsive, service oriented and community connected police can deliver according to the targets set in the Annual Policing Plan.

The preparation of this policing plan was really a difficult and technical task, being a legal requirement as well. We have however with the blessings of Allah almighty prepared the policing plan under reference and pray to Him that he may make our efforts fruitful in achieving our planned targets.

I wish the best of luck to the Chakwal Police

POPULATION	1.734 M
Total Tehsils	05
Total Sub-Division	03
Total Police Stations	11
Union Councils	64

According to the District Gazetteer Jhelum 1904, the city Chakwal is named after Chaudhry Chaku Khan, from Jammu who founded it in 1525 during the era of the Mughal emperor, Zaheerudin Babur. It remained a small but central town of Taluka Dhan Chaurasi for many centuries. In 1881, during the British era, it was declared the Tehsil Headquarter. It was finally upgraded to district status in 1985.

Chakwal is situated in Dhani region of Pothohar in northern Punjab. Chakwal and surrounding areas are home to ancient Soan civilization and it has a very rich history. The history of the area dates back to the semi-mythical period of the Maha-Bharat. Chakwal is a site of famous encounter of Alexander the Great with Raja Ambhi. Chakwal region's district capital is the city of Chakwal. Chakwal District has five Tehsils i.e., Kallar Kahar, Choa Saidan Shah, Chakwal, Talagang and Lawa. For many early years, this region was under the reign of Dogra Rajputs and Khokhar Rajputs.

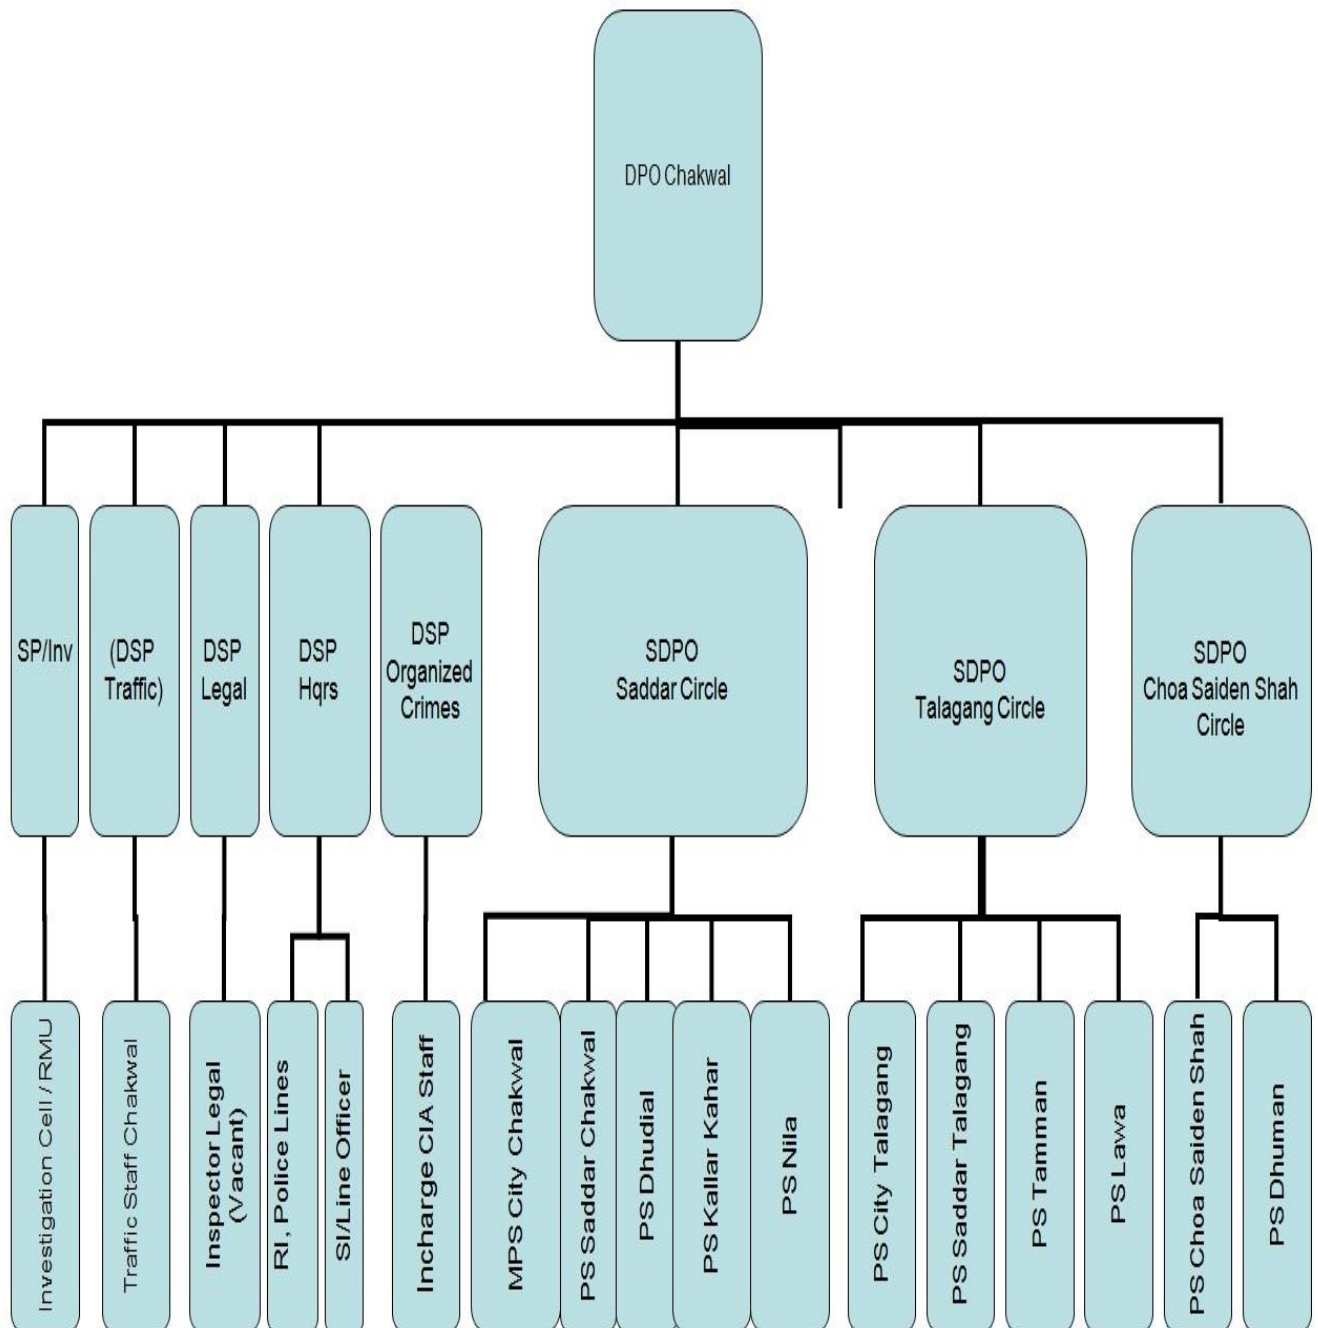

Chakwal city in itself, although heavily influenced by the village lifestyle, has more of an urban environment. Chakwal is also known as Military valley. Chakwal's unique culture and its rich history makes it a very interesting region. Chakwal has been bestowed by rich culture, history, art and extravagant environment. Once been known as a picnic spot of the Mughal Dynasty and the British Lords, Chakwal still offers a unique landscape to its visitors. World-renowned Kallar Kahar Lake, Takht-e-Babri, a stage built of stone by Emperor Babar to address his Army, Bagh-e-Safa and above all Katas Raj Temples (famous temples-fort and Medieval University surrounded by 100 temples built over a period of 1000 years by the Hindu rajas) are some ideal places for tourists. The famous temple of 'Katas' holds great significance for Hindus who come here for worship as Katas's name is mentioned in Hindu holy book 'Maha Bharat' (written in 300 BC).

Chakwal was a non-industrial district, however several industries (Cement Factories and Spinning Mills etc) have been established. The other source of income of the people is agriculture. Holdings are not large therefore the financial condition of the general public is not solid. The youth segment of society is reluctant to follow farming as a profession. Since they do not find any alternative source of income, they engaged in criminal activities, such as theft, robbery, dacoity, motor vehicle snatching etc. Economic disparity breeds crime against property.

Comments by DPO

Chakwal Police is facing unprecedented challenges of great severity and magnitude. The major issues being confronted by the District Police Chakwal are combating terrorism, fighting ever more desperate and better equipped criminals and trying to meet the rising expectations of the public. These issues affect the administrative and operational priorities and strategic objects of the police. The Annual Policing Plan 2024-25 circumscribe all these thematic conceptions and makes recommendations based on our social, cultural and capacity of the Police force.

To reinforce our pledge for a balanced force, we have introduced modern concepts of policing as part of the curricula short courses at Police lines in the shape of training strategy. We intend to change the mind set and abysmal state of police cultural at police station level by issuing police guideline like Free Registration cases, Code of Conduct, Guideline of Police Public Relations, Strategy of Kidnapping for Ransom, Strategy to fight Street Crime, Police Commission of Police Encounters to check their veracity and genuineness. Our key performance indicators are based on innovative tools of control encompassing every area of policing. Our major concern is to prevent, restrict and retard the tide of rising crime, abuse of human rights and terrorism.

We intend to transform police into a proactive organization and change its traditional Irish constabulary model to intelligence led policing in which every information is analyzed thoroughly, on the base of statistical data and counter strategies are devised. Therefore major responsibility for implementation rests with senior police command at district level.

Chakwal Police is committed to be changed into a thoroughly professional, accountable and service oriented department delivering dynamic and effective law enforcement. We promise to continue the struggle to clean our District, of the criminals and terrorist who pose a great threat to the life and property of the general public. We also remember the sacrifices of our Police Officers who offered their lives in order to stem the heinous crime which has blighted our beloved country. In this back drop, we have endeavored to prepare Annual Policing Plan 2024-25, to reset, revise and review our goals, objectives and targets to meet the challenges of the future.
