I am directed to enclose herewith a copy of Military Adviser's Office Pakistan Mission to United Nations, New York letter No.Mily-1/5/2019 dated 03 February 2020 alongwith enclosures on the subject cited above.

UN Signals Academy has called applications for the 7th Edition of the UN Women's Outreach Course (WOC#7) scheduled to take place from 1-12 June 2020 at UN Signals Academy, Entebbe, Uganda. The Women Outreach Course (WOC) is a specialized training program for Women Police Officers who are specialist in Information and Communication Technology (ICT). The aim of the course is to increase the percentage of Women Police Officers in deployment to UN peacekeeping operations and to address gender imbalance. The trained officers can be deployed as Advisers to Police Commissioners on Information and Communication Technology (ICT) matters. The course will be fully conducted in English language.

3. Training content covers the necessary knowledge and skills relating to command, control, communications, operations, planning, systems as well as relevant UN Policies, Regulations and Standard Operating Procedures required to provide participants with the background needed to prepare for deployment.

4. All costs associated with participating in the WOC#7 (airfare, accommodation, meals) will be sponsored by the United Nations while the associated costs on late arrival (airfare, accommodation, meals) will be the responsibility of nominating Member State.

5. The United Nations have invited Member States to nominate and register qualified Women Police Officers with following minimum profile requirement:

- i) Female Information and Communication Technology (ICT) Officers.
- ii) Rank: Assistant Superintendent Police and above.
- iii) Language: Fluency in English.

6. The online registration is required to be completed before the deadline of 13-03-2020 at <http://indico.un.org/e/UNSA-WOC7>.

7. It is requested that duly filled mandatory Electronic Application Form and color copies of Passport of nominated Women Police Officers may be forwarded to this office by 03-03-2020. Scanned copies of signed documents may also be emailed to rohaimoid@gmail.com. Fluency in English language (both oral and written) is required. Incomplete documents and nominations received after deadline will not be entertained/ processed.

8. This issues with the approval of competent authority.

<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The Operations Support Division (OSD) of the Office of Information and Communications Technology Division (OICT) has the pleasure to refer to Note Verbale DFS/ICTD/206/0343 dated 17 May 2016 regarding the UN Signals Academy Women's Outreach Course. We wish to inform Member States about the hosting of the upcoming 7th edition of the WOC (WOC#7), scheduled to take place from 1st to 12th June 2020 at the UN Signals Academy, Entebbe, Uganda. 2. The WOC is a specialized training programme for women military signals and police Information and Communications Technology (ICT) specialists. The programme is a direct response to Security Council Resolution #2122 (2013), which encourages troops and police-contributing countries to increase the percentage of women military and police in deployments to UN peacekeeping operations and address gender imbalance. 3. In this regard, Member States are encouraged to register women uniformed officers who will undergo the WOC in the Peacekeeping Capability Readiness System. Member States are highly encouraged to deploy the nominated officers in UN Peacekeeping within 18 months upon completion of the course. 4. The WOC#7 is two weeks in duration. It is aimed to prepare uniformed staff officers to be deployed in UN peacekeeping operations as signals experts in Headquarters or Sector Headquarters (J6/G6/S6) and police officers as advisors to police commissioners on ICT matters. The WOC#7 will be fully conducted in English language. 5. Training content covers the necessary knowledge and skills relating to command, control, communications' operations, planning systems as well as relevant UN policies, regulations and standard operating procedures required to provide participants with the background needed to prepare for deployment. 6. All costs associated with participating in the WOC#7 (airfare, accommodation and meals), will be sponsored by the United Nations, enabled by the generous donation of the Government of Japan. Participants must have valid international health insurance coverage while attending the course. The provision of health insurance is a national responsibility. Participants who do not arrive on the first day of the training for circumstances other than unforeseen flight delays will not be accepted later than the second day of the course. Costs associated with late arrival (airfare, accommodations and meals) will be the responsibility of the participant's Member State.

7. The United Nations kindly invites the Permanent Missions to the UN to nominate and register qualified women candidates with the following minimum profile requirements:

Military

- Female Information & Communications Technology officers
- Rank: Captain / Major / Lieutenant colonel
- Language: Fluency in English

Police

- Female police Information & Communications Technology officers
- Rank: Assistant Superintendent and above
- Language: Fluency in English.

8. Registration is to be completed online by Permanent Missions to the UN only and no later than the 13th March 2020 deadline. Please use following link <http://indico.un.org/e/UNSA-WOC7> to complete registration and submit mandatory supporting documents: Personal History Form for Military Personnel and/or Electronic Application Form for Police, and applicants' passport copies. Non-compliant applications won't be considered.

9. For more information please contact: Philippe Schifferling (schifferlingp@un.org), or Aaron David (davida@un.org), UN Signals Academy program management.
